Fined Him Fifty Dollars. William F. Poulton, a saloon keeper, INTERESTING REPORT FROM SUR-GEON GORGAS.

General Death Rate Compares Favorably With the Great Ports of the World.

An exceedingly interesting report upon the success attained by the army sanitary officers of Havana in warding off yellow fever and smallpox has just been received at the War Department from Surgeon W. C. Gorgas, the chief sanitary officer of Havana. The report shows in substance that the general death rate for March 26-28 is lower than at any time since 1889, comparing favorably with the great ports of the Dr. Gorgas thinks the war upon mosquitoes has brought about this state of affairs. The text of the report is as fol-major general commanding to the continued excellent sanitary condition of the city as shown by the general death rate. The general death rate, 26.28, it will be seen, is considerably lower than that of any March since 1889, the lowest previous rate for the preceding eleven years being that of 1893, when we had 27.60; the highest, that of 1898, the last year of Spanish occupation, when we had 78. It will be seen from this that we have had a steady decrease since the American occupation, and that we compare favorably with many other of the larger cities of the world.

"According to marine hospital reports, Liverpool, for the week ending February 23, 1991, with a population of 668,645, had 338 deaths, being a death rate of 26.26. Dublin, for the week ending February 16, 1991, with a population of 349,594, had 235 deaths, which gives a death rate of 34.84 per thousand. Marseilles, for the month of January, 1991, estimated population 447,344, deaths, 1,81 giving death rate 31.20. deaths 1.181, giving death rate 31.20.
"The number of deaths for March is considerably larger than that for February, due to the increased number in the diarrhoeal diseases of children, and an increase in pulmonary troubles generally. As these causes affect the Cuban population mostly, it will be seen that the increase is entirely among the Cubans. The Cubans in February, 1901, had 305 deaths, and in March, 1901, 444.

The Yellow Fever Situation.

"But what I wish more particularly to city with regard to yellow fever. Our report shows four cases and one death. The only two years since 1889 showing as small a number of deaths as this were 1892 and 1890, when we had one death in March for each of these years. Of these four cases reported in March, 1901, only one took sick during March; the other three were taken sick during the latter part of February, and remained over into March. In 1900 during March we had eleven cases and four "Previous to the year '99 no record was unable to make comparison. As a matter of fact, we have had only one case of yellow fever in Havana since the 1st of March, and since March 23 the city of Havana has been entirely free from that disease. This is the first time this has oc-curred since June, 1809. There were two occasions in 1900 when we went for a few days with no fever, but none since the time mentioned that we have been free from fever as long as at the present. I feel very much encouraged at the prospects for

"I think our present freedom from fever is in part due to the systematic and extensive way in which we have been killing the uitoes for the last month. I have the greatest hopes of destroying the focl as they appear by systematically killing the mosquitoes over a large area around each focus as it occurs.

"I am inclined to think that we have been free from fever for a longer time than has ever occurred in Havana before. Our records show longer periods in which no fever was reported in the early part of the year '99, but at that time physicians had not learned to recognize the milder types of yellow fever, and were much less careful about reporting them, so that a case of yellow fever, which is now promptly ecognized and reported, would then have

Condition Regarding Smallpox.

"Our condition with regard to smallpox is equally satisfactory, and while this disease is occurring in every part of the United States, we in Havana have not had a single case since August, 1900. These two diseases, yellow fever and smallpox, have been looked upon as being endemic in Ha-vana. I think the present state of affairs particularly worthy of remark.
"I also call attention to the large amount of sanitary work being done, as shown by the report. In the report for this month I have changed the form somewhat, giving more data under this head. I incorporate this month, for instance, the large number of legal proceedings instituted for non-com-pliance with orders. One thousand two hundred cases is a very startling array and will no doubt strike the health officers of most of our large cities as being very ex-cessive. But, as I have the power of withdrawing cases, I use this measure very freely for getting the work done. If any work ordered has not been commenced on re-inspection within a week after the order is given, I start legal proceedings. This almost invariably causes the owner to com-mence work, and when the work is completed. I almost always withdraw the case. Probably not fifty of these 1,200 cases were carried through and fined.

"The bacteriological examination of sputa was commenced March 3; that is stations were established at various points about the city. The physicians were requested to send the sputa to these stations and arrangements were made to collect the sputa and give the result of the examination the same day. The success of the scheme has proven very satisfactory. The report will show that eighty cases have been examined since the 3d of the month. This is as gratifying as it is unexpected. Dr. Davolos of the municipal laboratory kindly makes the examinations

A REGAL DAY,

Universal Thankfulness Greeted Reappearance of the Sun.

There's no telling what would have happened if the sun had not appeared in this neck of the woods today. Most people. save those of rare philosophical dispositions who would probably utter "Kismet" even if suddenly tripped to a seat on a red hot stove, were growing morbid under the trying tension of steady rains. Some were nearly approaching the stage which a Pennsylvania man reached yesterday. He was J. Frank Condon, official reporter of the county court at Altoona. Wednesday he said:

Why don't the sun come out?" asked J. Frank Condon, official reporter of the county court, yesterday. "I haven't seen the sun for a week. I'm distraught. If I don't see it tomorrow morning I'll shoot myself. I can't stand this horrible, gloomy weather that clings about one like grave Yesterday morning broke, as did all the others for more than a week, with a dismal rain falling. About 9 o'clock a friend went to Condon's office on business. He found him seated in an easy chair gripping a revolver in his hand. He had shot himself in the head because he didn't see the sun when he threw back the office shut-

Happily the rigorous sway of the ele-Happily the rigorous sway of the elements unpleasant was broken—smashed is a better word—by the sun this morning and never was the orb of day welcomed with more universal thankfulness.

Big people and little, of all sorts and conditions, in the classes and masses, lifted their heads to the blue skies like chickens after they take a drink of water and gave great gulps of gratitude. Parks became peopled with the tots who had been kept indoor prisoners through dreary days and the buds and blossoms and leaves and the buds are somed to tendrils of shrubbery and trees seemed to fairly tremble with happiness. GRAVE DIGGERS GO ON STRIKE.

A dispatch from Philadelphia says: Not a man could be found yesterday to dig a grave at Holy Cross Catholic cemetery because the regular hands objected to the discharge of one of their number. His fellows' demand that he be reinstated was refused.

The grave diggers declared that "corpses might come and corpses might go," but they would stay out forever unless the discharged man was taken back.

Superintendent Thomas Mingey advertised for new grave diggers today and fifty men responded. Twenty-five were put to work, and though a few burials were de-layed before the new hands started in, ev-erything was soon in working order. When four of the strikers reported later they were paid off and told to seek work in some other cemetery
